FRANK TURNER
YUKON QUEST LEGEND
OVER TWENTY THOUSAND MILES
ON A DOG SLED

Frank Turner

Yukon Quest winner and longest running competitor in the toughest dog sled race in the world.

Frank shares the mysteries of running competitively in the Yukon Quest along with wisdom and insights gained from working with a committed and finely-tuned team.

Frank has a master's degree in social work with focus in community development. He has lived in the Yukon for over 30 years.

For more than two decades, he was involved in community development initiatives throughout the Yukon, working primarily with Yukon First Nations, in a variety of management capacities.

Team building conferences and retreats

Frank focuses on "innovative" team building exercises that involve participants in activities with the dogs. This result in higher retention of the core element, because the program is fun... and learning is occurring by osmosis.

Sessions run from 1/2 day conferences to overnight retreats.

Frank's philosophy

A team is a very special group. Effective teams are like a puzzle where all the pieces fit together. Unlocking the full potential of each individual is the key. All teams can look good when the conditions are smooth; not all teams look good in difficult times. Frank build teams that looks good when the conditions are smooth and respond well when times are rough..
